

CONTENTS

1. Introduction,3
Francis Fukuyama

PART I: THE HISTORICAL CONTEXT

2. Two Centuries of South American Reflections on the Development Gap between the United States and Latin American, 11
Tulio Halperin Dongui
3. Looking at Them: A Mexican Perspective on the Gap with the United States, 48
Enrique Krauze
4. Explaining Latin America's Lagging Development in the Second Half of the Twentieth Century: Growth Strategies, Inequality, and Economic Crisis, 72
Jorge I. Domínguez

PART II: THE POLITICS OF UNDERDEVELOPMENT IN LATIN AMERICA

5. Does Politics Explain the Economic Gap between the United States and Latin America?, 99
Adam Przeworski with Carolina Curvale
6. The Role of High-Stakes Politics in Latin America's Development Gap, 134
Riordan Roett and Francisco E. González

PART III: INSTITUTIONAL FACTORS IN LATIN AMERICA'S DEVELOPMENT

7. The Latin American Equilibrium, 161
James A. Robinson
8. Do Defective Institutions Explain the Development Gap between the United States and Latin America?, 194
Francis Fukuyama
9. Why institutions Matter: Fiscal Citizenship in Argentina and the United States, 222
Natalio R. Botana
10. Conclusion, 268
Francis Fukuyama